

P1: Alright, since it's your first time playing, I'll start. So, I will take AERO. Now it's your turn.
P2: Okay, so can I take NEAT?
P1: Where is it? Oh there, yeah that's fine. I will go ahead and take LAIC.
P2: What? Is that really English?
P1: It totally is dude.
P2: Fine fine, I guess I'll take USED.
P1: Well played. Okay, so I will take... NERDY.
P2: Oh yeah, like rendering fat. Aha! BILE, right there.
P1: I was considering that one. In the same theme I'll take SPIT.
P2: What if I don't know if something is technically a word?
P1: Just take it and we shall see. Over here, right?
P2: Yeah, I want to take FAIN if possible.
P1: Absolutely. I can't find anymore words so it's your turn again.
P2: Okay... No, that won't work... What do I do if I cannot take any more either?
P1: Take the longest possible one you can find.
P2: And it can be any length, right?
P1: Yes yes, any length is fine but longer is better for you.
P2: I'll take OUTWORN then.
P1: Huh, I don't see anything I can take. Over to you.
P2: What about TIME?
P1: Nope, after that long a word you cannot take the unused ones that are adjacent to other unused ones.
P2: Oh, well that means I win right?
P1: So it would seem my friend...
